5.3.2. Winter and Summer Semester Update

Provost Jennifer Berne provided an update on OCC’s Winter and Summer enrollment.
In adherence to the Governor’s March stay home/stay safe decree, faculty converted all face-to-face classes into remote environments. The following occurred:

- 633 faculty began teaching 1,521 course sections of 479 different classes in an online or remote format
- 15,264 students, taking an average of 7.98 credits, adjusted schedules, gained access to technology, and changed the way many of them were learning

Summer Semester 2020
- 9,747 students, taking 58,320 credit hours, enrolled for the Summer Semester
- Headcount is down only 26 students (.27 percent from Summer 2019), and credit hours are up 3,624 (up 6.64 percent from Summer 2019)

Academic leaders are focused on supporting faculty as they transition face-to-face courses to online and remote formats to prepare for the future. While the time wasn’t available as we set up remote learning for Winter and Summer, we now have the ability to create and provide professional learning that will offer faculty the opportunities to enhance their technology and pedagogical skills, to study best practices in online and remote course delivery, to collaborate with one another, and to learn from the experience of our academic technology professionals.

As a result, OCC will have a large number of faculty well prepared to teach high-quality online and remote courses. This capacity gives us both the flexibility to respond to future crises and the stability to integrate more technology-enhanced classes into our regular course schedule. OCC continues to offer the full array of career and transfer options for students as we carry on our efforts to provide high-quality teaching and learning in all modalities for the present and the future.

Trustee Anderson inquired about the summer scholarships that were given to students. Chancellor Provenzano noted over 900 students applied and approximately 700 scholarships were granted. Unfortunately, there was not enough money to provide scholarships to all who applied. The Chancellor believes that the scholarships affected the number of students who are attending Summer Semester 2020 as to those who enrolled in Summer Semester 2019. Other reasons for enrollment may be due to other institutions are encouraging students to take classes closer to home, as well as some students may not currently be working and are able to attend Summer semester.

Trustee Bertolini was very pleased with the report and the amazing transformation of faculty and staff to meet the needs of our students during these difficult times. Trustee Jackson echoed Trustee Bertolini’s praises.

Trustee Bertolini MOVED to receive and file the report. Trustee Jackson seconded.
